Civic Elections Set For Wednesday, Oct. 18

V. J. Horejsi Accepts New Post in Edmonton

V. J. Horejsi, administrator of the Crows Nest Pass Municipal Hospital, will leave this position to take over the duties of Assistant Hospitals Administration Examiner for the Department of Public Health Province of Alberta. Mr. Horejsi will be stationed in Edmonton, but his family will continue to reside in Frank.

Born in Frank, "Jim", as he is better known to all in the Crows Nest Pass, attended school in Frank and completed his high school in Czechoslovakia.

On completion of his schooling he returned to Frank in 1927 and worked in the mines in Blairmore from 1928 until 1950.

During his long mining career Mr. Horejsi worked at practically every occupation there is in the mining industry, including digging coal, ventilation, haulage and other duties. In 1950 he went to Vermilion where he worked as town clerk for a period of six months before returning to the Pass in July of 1951 to take over the position of Hospital Secretary-treasurer. Some six years of experience and study earned for Mr. Horejsi the title of hospital administrator, being a graduate of hospital administration management.

Two years after having completed his course, Mr. Horejsi was appointed as the administrator of the Crows Nest Pass Municipal Hospital in 1958.

Mr. Horejsi has also taken an active part in the village of Frank having acted as chairman of the school board from 1932 until 1945, and also looked after the duties of village secretary for some years.

He was on the provisional Crows Nest Pass Municipal Hospital Board two years before the hospital was built and was on the board for three years after the establishment was constructed, thus having been a board member from 1945 to 1950. He is also a member of the Crows Nest Pass Band for the past six years and during the last three years has played on the RCMP (M) 31st Technical Sqdn. Band.

Mr. Horejsi is also well known in Crows Nest Pass Sportsmen's groups, being an active hunter and fisherman.

He has a wife, Rose, teaching school in Blairmore; one daughter, Darlene, Mrs. Bob Jones of Calgary, and two sons, Brian, studying Forestry at the University of Montana in Missoula, and another son Jan at home.

Vote as You Please---BUT VOTE

None of the six nominees in Coleman have withdrawn their names in the contest for three seats on the Coleman Council and as a result elections will be held on October 18th. The three vacancies arose as the result of Armando DeLuca and John Ramsey resigning and Joe Wavrecan's term expiring.

A good variety of local men are seeking election on council and the cross section includes garage attendant, Mel Cornett, Ted Kryczka, school teacher; Feruccio Dececco, a school janitor; Joe Hanrahan, Department of Highways foreman; Glen Poulton, a mine worker, and Joe Wavrecan, a bagger operator.

Two vacancies on the school board of trustees are also being contested by four nominees and those seeking election are Joe Brown, station agent; Clarence Clarke, town employee; William Skura, mine worker, Henry Zak, local merchant.

Blairmore's 50th Anniversary Celebrations Successful

Blairmore's three-day Golden Anniversary Celebrations wound up in the auditorium of the Isabelle Sellon high school Sunday night with an excellent variety concert of entertainment attended by over 600 persons. Master of ceremonies for the affair was Eric Price, in the absence of Max Brown, who became ill during the day.

Mr. Price called on Mayor Jalpe, who, after expressing his personal and town thanks, to all who assisted with the celebrations, read telegrams and letters of congratulations to the town from John Diefenbaker, prime minister of Canada; Ernest Manning premier of Alberta; J. Percy Page, lieutenant-governor; Canadian Oil Companies of Calgary, and from an old timer, Stan Boyle, who is in a city hospital.

Mayor Jalpe also read many letters from former residents of Blairmore, who were unable to be present for the festive occasion.

He gave a short resume' of the town of Blairmore's colorful history, announcing that an excellent booklet was being prepared and would be ready by the middle of December for sale.

In concluding his remarks, His Worship commended all the committees, organizations, persons and groups and everyone who co-operated and worked hard hand in hand with one another to make the occasion one that will be remembered for many years.

Rev. W. Young of Edmonton, was called upon to make several remarks on behalf of the old-timers of town and those who were visiting. He commended everyone taking part in the celebrations and made mention of the "parade that couldn't be stopped" as being one of the most wonderful he had ever seen.

He congratulated the people of Blairmore on the fine progress they had made over the years and wished them success in coming years.

Mrs. Ruby Decoux and Peter Montabetti of Blairmore, who were the Jubilee Queen and King, expressed their pleasure at having had the honor of being the town's residents who had lived here the longest.

They expressed thanks to everyone for all the courtesies they had been shown during the celebrations.

A fine program of entertainment then followed which included a skit "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" by Robert Service, performed by the high school Drama Class, directed by Mrs. Alice Serra, and the dancing of the "Can Can" directed by Mrs. Clement Jepson; several excellent piano accordion solos by Ron Skina of Blairmore, accompanied by pianist Darlene Korman, a vocal solo by Fred Smith, accompanied by his daughter Valerie on the piano; several selections by the Barber-shop Quartet, a piano solo by Albert Krywolt, a vocal solo by Miss Valerie Smith, a piano solo by Peter Costigan, accompanied by his mother, pianist Mrs. Beatrice Costigan, LBSM, ARCT; a clarinet duet by bandmaster Frank Edl and Dick Burgman, accompanied by Mrs. R. During the evening the Crows Nest Pass Band under the baton of Bandmaster Frank Edl, played a number of selections.

The program was thoroughly enjoyed by all and wound up the biggest celebration the town of Blairmore has ever enjoyed since its incorporation on September 29, 1911.

Fire Prevention Week, October 8 to 14

FIRE PREVENTION IS EVERYBODY'S JOB . . .

Throughout the year, fire strikes an average of 170 Canadian homes every day.

Every 15 hours, fire takes a life somewhere in Canada.

And, the tragic thing about these fires is that thousands of them could have been avoided. They should never have happened!

It is as a reminder of this fact that the nation is observing Fire Prevention Week from October 8 to 14.

Nearly one-fourth of all fires in this country are caused by matches and careless smoking, according to the Canadian Underwriters' Association; another 20 per cent are the result of misuse of electrical equipment.

Simply by using care with matches and lighted cigarettes, cigars and pipes, we can hold down our vast fire toll.

By keeping matches away from children we can prevent them from starting fires.

By making sure that all of our electrical appliances are in good repair, we can reduce the possibility of fire still further.

These are some of the truths being stressed during Fire Prevention Week this year.

Fire Prevention Week always falls in the week containing October 9th, for it was on that day in 1871 that the Great Chicago Fire broke out. The Chicago fire took 250 lives and destroyed 17,430 buildings and other property worth $175,000,000. In terms of today's construction costs, the Chicago property damage would have run into billions!

The Great Chicago Fire, in addition to being tragic and costly, had one constructive facet — it made North America fire conscious.

Eventually, it brought recognition of the need for a concerted national fire prevention effort.

Each year the Queen, by proclamation sets aside the week containing October 9th, as Fire Prevention Week in Canada.

Last year, in this country of ours, Fire took the lives of over 560 persons, with over 230 of these being children.

Fire losses in Canada have exceeded $124,000,000 for the second year in a row, with the total climbing substantially each year.

It is to the interest of all to re-dedicate ourselves to the never-ending crusade against Fire

Better TV Reception For Crows Nest Pass

The Minister of Transport has advised Dr. Lawrence E. Kindt, M.P. for the Macleod riding, that the Cabinet has approved the recommendation of the Board of Broadcast Governors granting the construction of a private rebroadcasting station at Burmis, Alberta.

This favorable action clears the way for improved TV reception for the people of the Crows Nest Pass and also a better service for the Pincher Creek area. I understand preliminary construction is under way by Lethbridge Television Limited.

The installation is to be placed on a mountain in the vicinity of Burmis for the rebroadcasting of programs of Station CULH-TV, of Lethbridge. It is hoped that the people of the Crows Nest Pass and of the Pincher Creek area will have improved television as soon as installations can be completed this fall.

Coleman Man Bags Silver Tip Bear

Tony Lycka, well known Coleman hunter, bagged a 400 pound silver tip bear on Monday in the area north of Sentinel Lake.

Mr. Lycka states that the five-year-old bear was spotted about 200 yards away and began charging him and when the bear was 50 feet away he fired and downed the animal with one shot from his 30.06 calibre rifle.

Mr. Lycka, who has been hunting for the past 30 years, has shot a good number of bears, but claims this is the biggest he has ever shot. He is having the pelt made up to a rug.

Trouble that looks like a mountain from a distance, usually is only a hill when you get to it.

OF MANY THINGS (By Ambrose Hills)

CBC and Advertising

It was surprising that the CBC sent out to newspapers a boastful press release announcing that they had sold the winter TV schedule in record time.

CBC once looked down its long nose at commercialism, but now seems to be bragging of its zeal in this connection. The release is not likely to please editors of newspapers which see subsidized TV eating into their own legitimate revenues.

There is something else quite questionable about the CBC's boast of quick and effective selling. The story carefully avoided mentioning that the sales success was due, in part at least, to an important change in policy.

The change is a strange one. CBC salesmen no longer insist that a big advertiser take some Canadian material if he wants a big American show. Not at all.

Several big advertisers are on imported American shows and are not sponsoring any Canadian programs at all. Even friends of the CBC will be a bit surprised at this radical about-face.

Another thing that makes the CBC's boast somewhat hollow is the fact that its competitor, the forthcoming private network, CTV, is abiding by the old rule, that a sponsor who wants an American show, must also invest something in a Canadian show. Surely it is strange that the private network, which must raise its own revenues, should be the one to carry the ball for Canadianism, when CBC's very existence hinges on the public desire for the development of Canadian talent.

What is the BBG doing about this? Surely the least it can do is to ask the CBC at a public hearing why it abandoned the policy of requiring advertisers to do some Canadian broadcasting along with their American shows!

If it cannot give a good answer, the politicians would surely wonder if they aren't subsidizing the wrong network.

From a Christian industrialist

I don't claim to know too much about education, but I know there is a lot to learn in this modern world.

The more we know, the more we can produce, the more we can have, both individually and collectively. We can produce by hard work or we can do as my mother used to say, "Make your head save your heels."

The boss in the foundry told me one day that he didn't want any of his men to work hard, he just wanted them to work fast.

I say that a man can make his muscles work, but he can make his brains work, too. Your brains are just like your muscles. Some people seem to have more brains than others and some seem to have more muscles than others, but the more you make your muscles work, the stronger they get, and the more you make your brains work, the stronger they get, too.

The point is that you have to develop your brains or they will get lazy just like your muscles. We must apply our minds to the task of learning just as we would to sawing up a cord of wood with the old bucksaw.

Muscular Dystrophy Association Needs Information

In this season of Thanksgiving most Canadians can find something for which to be thankful.

Fortune may have smiled on some of us less brightly than on others, but even so, this year may have been better than the last.

For victims of muscular dystrophy, however, each year is worse than the last. As if they were under some evil spell, these persons find the substance of their leg and arm muscles slowly and mysteriously changing from muscle tissue into fat. Medical science is desperately trying to discover why such a thing should happen, for the tragedy of MD is heightened by the fact that it mostly affects children.

To help its research scientists, The Muscular Dystrophy Association of Canada needs every available bit of information on the incidence of MD in Canada—including the ages of the victims, and the type of MD that afflicts each of them.

We urge your readers therefore to bring every confirmed or suspected case of MD to the attention of your local MDAC Chapter or fire department, or to our main office in Toronto. Not only will this information serve to speed our research program, but its reporting will enable us to extend our many services to these victims and their families.

The faster... the slower

A week-end study of motorists' driving habits leads to the conclusion that the increased speed of modern cars tends to make for slower traffic.

In the days, not long ago, when 30 or 40 miles an hour was a satisfactory speed for most drivers, one who preferred to drive at a faster clip had little difficulty in passing a line of slow cars.

Today, when 60 miles an hour is normal; the fast driver has to accelerate to 80 to use the passing lane on a three-lane highway, and if another fast driver is doing the same thing in the opposite direction, the two cars approach at a speed of 160 miles an hour. It follows that a careful fast driver cannot safely pass the cars in front of him if another car is in sight coming towards him.

As an added hazard, the middle lane is likely to be clogged with slow cars, in spite of the signs restricting its use to passing only.

The divided four-lane highway was an improvement when it was introduced, since it eliminated the danger of meeting cars. In theory, slow traffic should keep to the outer lane, leaving the inner lane for the speedy. In practice, the slow drivers fill both lanes.

Now there are a few six-lane roads, and they may become more common. One would be safe in betting that every Sunday in the summer all six lanes will be blocked by jalopies joggling happily along at 30 miles an hour.

The great Hall of Heaven

The name of the town of Gimli, on the western shore of Lake Winnipeg, in Manitoba, is Icelandic for "the great hall of heaven."

The name was given by the first Icelandic settlers to the point where they landed in 1875.

Gimli was one of a series of Icelandic settlements known as New Iceland, established on the western shore of the lake in that year.

New Iceland was the first permanent Icelandic settlement in Canada. At that time the area was part of the Northwest Territories and during the years 1878 - 1887 it was a self-governing unit according to its own constitution.

From this parent colony developed many other Icelandic communities in Manitoba and the U. S.

Pardon Our Errors

We once mis-spelled our own name in the NEWS. We feel for the writer of the following, an editor of a small newspaper, who responded to criticism thus:

"Ye, we know there were some errors in last week's paper, in the issue the week before, and in the previous one, too. Before bawling us out to too unmercifully about it, we want to call your attention to the following facts:

"Did you know that in the expression To Be Or Not To Be, by transpositions alone 2,759,022 errors can be made? In an ordinary newspaper column there are 10,000 letters, and their are given possibly wrong positions for each letter, making 70,000 chances to make errors and several million chances for transpositions. There are 48 columns in this paper, so you can readily see the chances of moustakes."—IEA News.

THE DIFFICULTY

When Stephen Leacock was asked by ambitious would-be authors to impart his magic formula for writing success, he would reply, "It is not hard to write funny stuff. All you have to do is to procure a pen and paper, and some ink, and then sit down and write as it occurs to you."

"Yes, yes," the would-be writer would prompt.

"The writing is not hard," Leacock would conclude, "but the currying—that, my friend, is the difficulty."—Reader's Digest

A lot of fellows who say what they think don't do enough thinking

"Our Land"

Two men were talking the other day; I stopped to hear what they had to say.

Each man was talking to his son, Telling the boys what that day they had won.

The first man stood and puffed his chest.

And said, "Look, boy, these horns are best!"

"Come here and gaze upon the prize,

"Though getting it was no surprise!"

The first boy gazed with awe sublime,

As his father said, "No trophy here is as good as mine!"

"But this I knew was bound to be,

"For getting it took a lot out of me!"

"I climbed the hills for hours on end,

"Until my back could hardly bend.

"And the sweat of my brow ran into my eyes,

"But I brushed it aside and went after the prize!"

The second man stood quietly by.

And gazed at the hills, the trees and the sky.

On his son's shoulder he placed his hand,

And said, "My boy, just look at this land.

"There's something here for every age.

"As we pass on this, our heritage.

"I look at it through the eyes of a child.

"And I know it's the home of the animals wild.

"I'm warning you, boy, this here's no toy,

"To be cast aside when we've had our joy.

"The things are here for which we yearn.

"And to keep it that way, we've a lot to learn."

"If we show no respect for the game or the woods

"We can't stand tall as sportsmen should.

"If in hunting, or fishing, we go hog wild,

"There'll be nothing left for you my child."

So I travelled on and went my way

And asked what the boys had learned that day.

The first saw only the horns and the prize,

And the tired look in his father's eyes.

The second stretched tall with pride,

As he stood there at his father's side.

He'd learned that it takes more than a prize

To keep land like ours a paradise.

Many Killed Since First Auto Mishap

In September, 1899, Mr. H. H. Bliss stepped off a trolley car in New York and turned to assist a woman to alight. Just then a horseless carriage came along and struck him down.

Mr. Bliss died in the Roosevelt Hospital the next day, and gained the tragic distinction of becoming the first person to be killed by an automobile.

Last year the traffic death total for Canada and the United States was 41,273 and 3,163,152 persons injured.

Here are some other facts compiled by the B. C. Automobile Association in the mounting highway slaughter:

Most accidents happen from October through December with coincidence of darkness and the hours of heavy travel.

More than half of all deaths occur in night accidents. Between 5:00 and 7:00 p.m. is the most dangerous hour.

Three out of four accidents occur in clear weather, on dry roads. Adverse weather seems to induce drivers and pedestrians to exercise extra caution on the road.

Regarding causes of accidents, speed too fast for conditions continues an important factor, but many other factors are involved—driver errors, drinking drivers, inadequate roads and streets.

SOME SERVICE

The farmer knew little about banking, but he was induced to open a checking account for convenience. About two months later he was loud in his praises.

"By gum," he boasted, "that's a smart bank I've got all right."

"How is it any smarter than any other bank?" asked a friend.

"Crackery, but it is," he insisted.

"Them tellers was slick — They went and got all the checks I wrote back for me!"

ORDERS IS ORDERS

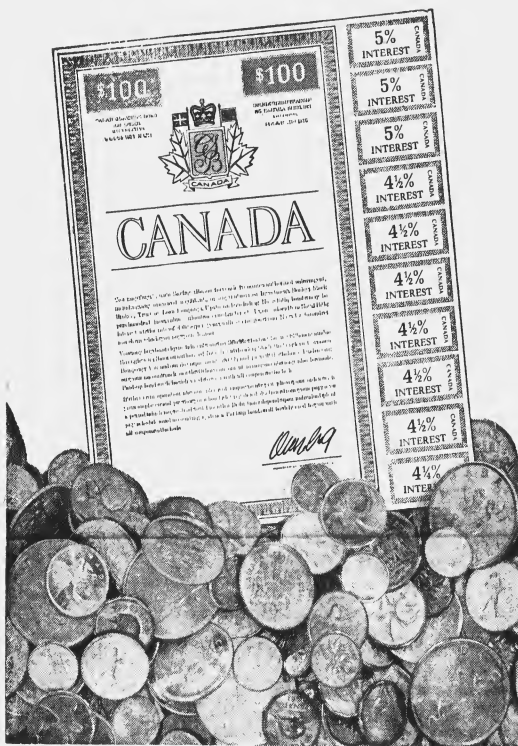

A Kansas soldier who had never seen the ocean was placed as a guard on the Virginia shore and told to hold his ground.

Some hours later when the tide was in, the Officer of the Day came along and found him up to his neck in sea water.

"Why, you fool," exclaimed the officer, "what are you doing out there?"

"I'm holding the ground like they told me," explained the young soldier, "but this here creek's rizz!"

Make it a habit to keep your feet on the ground and you'll never have far to fall.

Whoa, Boa — that's the big-time net-minder Hank Bassen you're putting the forward rush on! The Red Wing goalie, handed this South American boa constrictor by

SERVING THE PROVINCE OF ALBERTA

What a dark, lonely place the average farm used to be!

The glow from an oil lamp might be seen shining faintly from the window of a farm home . . . otherwise all was in darkness. Do you remember the messy job it was to wash lamp chimneys and to fill the lamps with coal oil, or having to pump a gas lamp, only to have a moth fly into the mantle and you had to start again?

Today, electric lights in barns, farm homes and yards . . . street lighting in even the smallest towns are true beacons of progress. Today, the motive power for the electrical servants you take for granted is brought to you at surprisingly low cost by Calgary Power. ELECTRICITY is now lighting your way to better, more comfortable living indoors and out.

Fire Prevention Week October 8 - 15

Coleman firemen are making plans this week for Fire Prevention Week to be observed from October 8 to 15.

Fire Chief Henry Zak has announced that a poster coloring contest for pupils from grades one to four is to be held and an essay contest for students from grade four to eight inclusive is also to be held. There will be three prizes for each class.

The brigade are also planning on visiting the schools to hold fire drills and give lectures on Fire Prevention in the Home.

Father Of Coleman Lady Passes

Mike Michalsky of Burnis died at the Crow's Nest Pass Municipal Hospital on Wednesday, October 4 following a very short illness.

Mr. Michalsky, 86 years of age, was born in Poland in September of 1885. He came to Canada in the early teens, settling in Bellevue, where he worked in the mines for a short time before going farming in the Burnis district where he remained until the time of his death.

He is survived by his wife Annie of Burnis; three sons, John and Ralph of Burnis, and Willie of Lundbreck and six daughters, Mrs. Lenard (Nellie) of Coleman, Mrs. Charles (Mary) Drain, Blairmore, Mrs. T. (Jeanette) Patera of Frank, Mrs. (Joe) (Katherine) Ulrich of Blairmore, Mrs. Dave (Genevieve) Cargill of Cranbrook, B.C., and Mrs. Ed (Josephine) Therriault of Charlo, Mont.; 20 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Prayers were said in the Chapel in Blairmore on Friday evening and funeral services were held from the Catholic Church in Bellevue at 10 a.m. on Saturday. Interment followed in the Bellevue Catholic cemetery. The Rev. Father J. F. Healey of Cowley, officiated.

Last Rites Held For Mrs. A. J. Snyder

Funeral services were held recently in Cowley for one of the district's oldest residents, Mrs. A. J. Snyder.

The late Mrs. Snyder, age 90, died as the result of a fractured hip sustained in a fall. Her death occurred on the 60th anniversary of her wedding.

Rev. Wellington Dornier conducted the services in the Foothills United Church and interment took place in the Cowley cemetery.

Palbearers were Frank Weber, Harry Wright, Arthur Tustian, James MacKay, Eddie Smyth and Leslie Day.

Born Della May Wismer of Jordan Station, Ontario, in 1871, she married Mr. A. J. Snyder at Grimsby in 1901, and came West the same year.

With her husband she entered into the toil and privations of homesteading beside the Oldman River about four miles north of Cowley, where she resided until her death.

Her husband predeceased her in 1943. For the past 18 years she made her home with her son, Stanley, on the home farm.

Surviving her are three sons, Stanley at Cowley, Claire at Coleman, and Harold at Lundbreck; also six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Throughout her long life in the district Mrs. Snyder was highly respected for her community work. She was a charter member of the old original Methodist Church in Cowley and shared the direction of the Sunday School with Mrs. H. Morrison for many years.

During both World Wars she was a tireless Red Cross worker. She was also active in the Ladies' Aid.

Revelstoke Building

Materials Limited

Directors' Meeting

Directors of the newly formed Revelstoke Building Materials Ltd. which has acquired the assets and businesses of the predecessor, Atlas Lumber Company Limited and the Revelstoke Sawmill Company Limited organizations, held their initial board meeting this afternoon.

Formation of the new company signifies the return to Canadian ownership of these until now American controlled businesses which have developed over the past 55 years into one of the largest retail building material organizations in Canada.

Dividends on the predecessor Revelstoke and Atlas Companies were paid without interruption since 1935.

Ten year average earnings approximate 79c for each new common share on which it is anticipated a regular dividend policy will be established subject to earnings.

Seventy-eight outlets with hardware stores in conjunction with 15 of these are operated throughout Alberta and in British Columbia and Saskatchewan.

Management continues under the direction of Mr. Brett F. Sine and Mr. Charles E. Sine and their Calgary associates. The new company maintains transit mix concrete plants at five principal points in Alberta and British Columbia, and has extensive timber limits with planing mills at Rocky Mountain House, Whitecourt, Sundre, Coleman, Calgary and Edmonton which are an integral part of the business.

About 40 per cent of lumber manufactured is sold in the mid-western United States market.

The company has over 500 employees, with administrative offices located in Calgary.

All types of building products, ranging from paints to pre-fabricated houses are marketed under the company's own brand name of "Revvu", as well as many other nationally known names. Sales to date, according to Mr. Brett Sine, are showing improvement over those for the same period a year ago, reflecting a general improvement in the construction industry.

The Directors of the new company, in addition to Messrs. B. F. Sine, president, and C. E. Sine and J. P. Glaum, vice-presidents of Revelstoke are:

Messrs. S. H. Rogers, Minneapolis; J. C. Mahaffy, J. H. Kelly, of Calgary, and F. L. Glasgow, of Montreal.

Debentures, preferred and common shares representing the book value of this heretofore American-controlled business, are currently being offered to Canadian investors.

A Soucy Dish

Many people consider asparagus the aristocrat of vegetables because of its delicate taste and noble lineage — it's a cousin of the orchid. A spring perennial, asparagus takes at least three years from seeding to become edible, but it makes up for this slow growth by sprouting as rapidly as ten inches a day. It is for this reason that asparagus must be quickly hand-harvested to catch the stalks at their tenderest. A mature asparagus plant can yield as often as 6 times during the growing season.

There are many delectable ways of preparing this succulent sprout—either as a separate vegetable or as part of a "meal-in-a-dish", such as this recipe for Egg and Asparagus Casserole.

Hard boiled eggs and cooked asparagus are arranged in the bottom of a pie plate and topped by a zippy curry flavored sauce.

A sprinkling of buttered crumbs on the sauce adds a crisp note, in contrast to the softer texture of the casserole. Serve the casserole with heated, crusty bread and a tomato salad for supper, or as a company luncheon dish. Frozen asparagus makes a most satisfactory substitute when fresh asparagus is not in season.

Egg and Asparagus Casserole

(Yield—3 servings).

Four eggs

one pound fresh asparagus or 1

pkgs. approximately 10 ounces, frozen asparagus,

quarter cup finely chopped onion three tablespoons butter or margarine, heated

two tablespoons flour

half teaspoon salt

one eighth teaspoon pepper quarter teaspoon curry powder

one cup milk

one cup coarse soft white bread crumbs

one tablespoon butter or margarine, melted

Hard cook, shell and cut the eggs into quarters. Trim and thoroughly wash fresh asparagus, if being used—cover and cook it in a small amount of salted boiling water until tender; drain thoroughly. If frozen asparagus is being used, cook it according to package directions. Pre-heat oven to 350 deg. F. (moderate).

Slowly fry onion in the three tablespoons heated butter or margarine until they are tender but not colored. Remove from heat and blend in flour, salt, pepper, curry powder and milk. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until the sauce is smoothly thickened. Arrange the asparagus and egg wedges in a pie plate; cover with sauce. Combine bread crumbs and the one tablespoon melted butter or margarine; sprinkle over sauce in dish. Bake in pre-heated oven until the crumb topping is golden — 20 to 25 minutes. Serve hot.
